Constable Country Today

Lying in the Dedham Vale Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) along the Essex/Suffolk border, Constable Country embraces the communities of Dedham, Flatford and East Bergholt.

The wide skies and riverside meadows which characterised much of Constable's work is easy to experience today. The best way to reach the area is by train to Manningtree, where you can then catch the Hopper and enjoy the scenery as you are taken into the heart of Constable Country. You can combine a walk or boat trip with the Hopper bus as your ticket is valid for as many journeys as you like all day long.

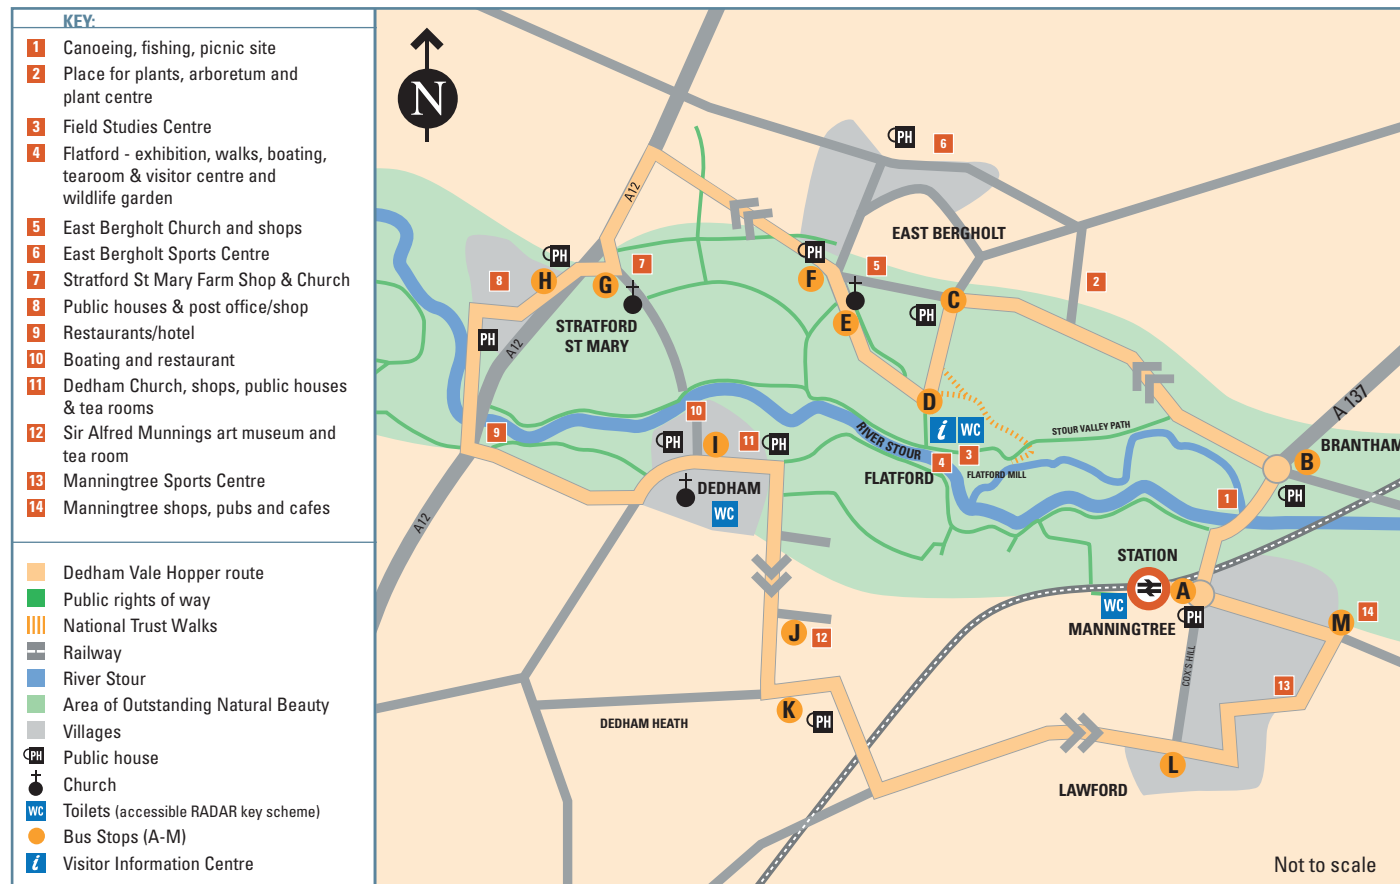

The Dedham Vale is a working landscape, where mixed farming is an important part of managing the land. Please keep to the waymarked public footpaths.

Colchester Tourist Information Centre can help you to get the best out of your stay.

Arrived by train at Manningtree, jumped on the Hopper bus.

Arrived Flatford

Explored the waymarked walks, found out about Constable and relaxed in the Wildlife Garden.

Caught the 'Trusty' electric boat to Dedham while the others walked along the riverside path.

Tea room lunch in Dedham followed by a Church tower tour and a walk around the village and shops. Simply stunning!

Jumped back on the Hopper to visit the Munnings Art Museum. Beautiful gardens, house and artist's studio with lovely cafe too.

Back on the Hopper with our all-day ticket.

Manningtree Station for our train home.
